I. General Information & Warnings

Family unit will be understood as the group of natural persons that travel jointly and that share civil bonds, kinship or affinity amongst each other

The marked quotas are annual and personal. Minors will have entitlement to 50% quota.

Traveler can only bring one single unit or one set of accessories or of new spare part that the private use traveler's vehicle requires when it arrives as accompanying baggage.

Travelers may not enter merchandises that are forbidden for importation such as: guns, ammo and explosives, among others

If you omit declaring money in cash or money representative securities that you enter or exit the country with being obliged to do so, or if you declare false, incomplete or wrong data, you may be subjected to sanctions and the money in cash or money representative securities will be withheld by the customs authority.

If the traveler declares his baggage and customs authority detects that he brings merchandises different to those authorized, or that do not comply with requirements, or when quota exceeds more than 20% in quantity or value, these merchandises will be transported to a warehouse to be subjected to a regime change.

If the traveler enters merchandises that are forbidden for importation or if non-declared, or hidden merchandise is found on the body, clothes, shoes and other accessories that are worn at the moment of arriving at the national customs territory, or if non-declared merchandise is found hidden in suitcases, bags or any other element that is entered as accompanying baggage, or non-accompanying baggage, these will be apprehended.

When accompanying baggage has arrived to the single tax payment location, and this payment is not carried out immediately, merchandises will remain under the custody of customs authority in the place of arrival. If thirty (30) calendar days have passed from the arrival date of merchandises, or if the interested party does not pay or withdraw merchandises, these will automatically be considered as abandoned in favor of the Nation.

II. Obligation of declaring merchandises: The following merchandises must be declared in this form:

Merchandise subject to single tax payment.

- Personal or professional use items that the traveler residing abroad enters temporarily into the country tax free. At the moment of exiting the country you must present the merchandise before customs and likewise, present another declaration under the concept of exiting.
- 3. Merchandise different to the personal items that the traveler temporarily takes out of the country in his baggage, in order to then be entered in his return without paying taxes. The declaration will be presented at the moment of the traveler's exit and upon his return.
- 4. Goods that are patrimony and/or of cultural interest for Colombia and for other Countries.
- Animals, plants or products of an animal or vegetable origin.
- Patterns, measuring devices, reference materials and performance testing items, used by the National Meteorology Institute of Colombia. Upon exiting the country, traveler must present merchandise before customs.
- Medical devices introduced by accredited medical missions for the development of health days organized by non-profit foundations, which in this case will not be subjected to established quantities and restrictions.
- 8. Entry of merchandises that are subject to special norms, where the national government establishes the obligation of registering their entry or exit in travelers' declarations, such as: mobile phones, merchandises subject to requirements established by the Ministry of Culture or the Ministry of Environment and Sustainable Development.
